conferrees appointed to consider the disagreeing votes of the two houses of Congress on the tariff bill will soon conclude their labors. Of this we feel sure. Their patience is nearly exhausted, and the heat of the weather at Washington is well nigh unbearable.

Jefferson was wont to relate that committee appointed to consider the Declaration of Independence were much ring stable. But for these horse-flies been discussed indefinitely, and, perhaps, that convention.

If the people who are suffering from the action of Congress could regulate the heat they would make it much warmer than it is at Washington-that the other members of the two houses. Henneman, The general prayer is for an early agreement and a quick adjournment,

And such are the conditions prevailing at to get all, or almost all, that she asks. She uses to advantage the knowledge that the people can stand this agitation no longer; that they must have rest, and to get it they will have to accept such terms as are obtainable. We entertain no doubt that our senators will guard our interests closely. All that can be done they will do to protect Virginia industries as far as they may be properly protected in view of the pledges of our party; in view also of the important fact that the people's patience and purses are nearly exhausted.

If Congress continues to sit and sit and postpone and postpone, many House members will be defeated of renomination, The voters are eager to show their indig nation at the protraction of this question, and they know not how to do it better tran by ousting old members.

Dissatisfaction as to the distribution of public patronage doubtless has something to do with the prevailing discontent, but among the discontented are many excellent citizens who never asked office for themselves or their friends-persons whose sole but weighty grievance is that their business has come to a standstill almost while the tariff discussion has been going on. Hence the demand for action. Hence the outrage of delay.

State, County, and Municipal Taxes. The bill to provide for the collection of State, county, and municipal taxes assessed against corporations and corporation property in the hands of receivers,

A solid Elkins delegation of sixty-nine delegates has been selected to go to the convention, which meets at Elkins, the home of the ex-secretary, in a few weeks. The fact that some of Elkins's fast friends took an active part in the convention lends color to the rumor that he has de-cided to accept the nomination if offered

Here is another conspiracy to which we call the attention of the Baltimore Sun. Mr. Elkins is Senator Davis's son-in-law and Mr. Gorman is closely connected with Senator Davis. Will Senator Davis sup-Gorman? Maryland and West Virginia ar likely to get "mixed up" before these matters are settled.

Several years ago when Congress was Several years ago when Congress was discussing appropriations to the World's Fair, the Virg nim suggested and advocated an appropriation for the erection of a monument to Columbus on the Rip Raps, in Hampton Roads, as an appropriate tribute on the part of the United States to the discoverer of the American Continent. The suggestion at the time received favorable commendation.

"Whenever there shall be due any State, county, or municipal tax, which tax shall constitute a lien or claim upon property in the hands of a receiver appointed by a court of the United States, or any part thereof, it shall be the duty of the court to take order that such tax shall be paid promptly from said property, and an consumption or disposition of such property shall be permitted by said court until said tax shall be paid, except for the purpose of raising money to pay the same, without the consent of the officer whose duty it shall be to collect such tax, or except for the purpose of paying taxes due the United States."

In the General Assembly of Virginia of 1831 and 1892, following the surgestions of the Virginian as to the use of the Virginian as to the use of the Page for a monument to Columbus, recolutions were presented by the Hon. Phil. Brown, recommending the erection on the Rip Raps of a monument to Commodore Mathew F. Murray, the "path security of the seas," and requesting the Senators and Representatives of Virginia in Congress to take such steps as would secure governmental assistance. The Virginian is not aware that any action was taken by Congress on the subject. Recently the Maury Monument Association has been organized, with the object of practically taking the work in hand of and Pinta, the models of Columbus's fi

It will be well if the Maury Monument Association decides upon the Rip Raps as the site, to call the attention of the Virthe site, to call the attention of the Virginia congressmen to the resolution passed by the General Assembly. The Virginian, however, is of the opinion of the Richmond Dispatch that the association will select neither a design nor a site, until they have made substantial progress in raising funds, but congressional action may well preced the association's action.

O'Ferrall Applauded.

(Philadelphia North American.)

If anybody wants sense without sentiment, and advice without fear or favor, they can apply to Governor O'Ferrail, of Virginia, who keeps both on tap. Having been asked to contribute to the relief of the Coxeyite loafers in Virginia, the Governor made reply that were he disposed to aid the Coxeyites, he has no money at his disposal. But he desired to say that he had no sympathy with those people, and regards them "a lot of common idlers" who would not work if work were offered. Then he apologized for the authorities of Virginia who have been too lenient. He proposes to employ the strong (Philadelphia North American.) authorities of Virginia who have been too lenient. He proposes to employ the strong arm of the law for the relief of the Coxeyites, and does not intend to wait much lenger. That has the merit of sense, anyhow, and if O'Ferrall will set the pace, perhaps a few other governors who are at present afraid of their horses may climb in over the tailboard of that Virginia wagon.

climb in over the tallboard of that viriginia wagon.

Had some Governor taken the same plucky stard six months ago the country would have been spared a great humiliation, and the people near the route and camps of these peripatetic loafers might have saved their chickens and bacon. An idiot set the pace, and political expediency did the rest. To call such loafers "unemployed," and ask aid, is to insult every honest man out of work. Such petrons are not employed because they will not work. They are of the tribe which hat only one phrase, and has that always or the lips—"The world owes me a living." The world is their everlasting creator instead. They will not work, and they are almost too lazy tained that the Chicago convention of 1892 was bent upon nominating him whatever might be the creed agreed upon by that convention.

AFRAID OF CONSUMPTION.

People who lose flesh are in danger of consumption. Light weight is too often a sign of some "wasting disease," which gets its start from indigestion. Cure the indigestion, and health is rapidly regained. Paskola, the pre-digested food, prevents indigestion by its wonderful invigorating and nutritive properties. For loss of vigor, dull feelings, headaches, constipation, sour risings, and other symptoms of dyspepsia it is a sovereign cure. Paskola rapidly increases the weight. Under its nourishing power the hectio flush soon leaves the consumptive check, the skin assumes the hue of health, the night sweats cease, the cough dies away, and the emaclation is lost under a coat of solid, warm, and normal fiesh.

Paskola is not a medicine, but a food, pleasant to the taste, and agreeable to the weakest stomach. Being pre-digested, it is absorbed by the system the instant it is swallowed.

A pamphlet giving full particulars about Paskola will be sent on application to the Pre-Digested Food Company, 30 Read street, New York.
